Happy Half Year!

Wasn't January yesterday?

It has been a long beginning of 2019 with much fun to be had. Car accidents, Cancer scares, Lifestyle changes and the move. (oh, the move!) Plus, now that the internet is up and running, I get to enjoy Pandora and Netflix again. You know, without relying on my mobile data plan. (Yay!)

started posting on another image sharing platform: Vero. I like it and have begun to see a few likes in the last few days. (Woot woot!)

My new site has also been going well. I've added a review page so I can post

I've added a review page so I can post my thoughts on movies, books and shows I watch.

Delays have been many and placing ads on Amazon, FB and Instagram have been odd to say the least. I will be releasing a mini vlog soon with a few words on my daily life and thoughts. Who would have thought an introverted camera shy creative would need to find a way to video himself for all the world to see. Ah, the times, they are a-changin'. 😊

Thankfully, my IGTV shorts have been going well and I've my thoughts on movies, books and shows I watch. (Yes, I saw Endgame!) 😊

I hope everyone has been doing well and feel free to make suggestions on any of my works. Videos, Blogs, IGTV postings and the coming Vlogs. I'm eager to share my journey, no matter where it leads. We are all together in this world and it is preferable to share what we love than to criticize what we hate. (Yes?)

Fave Posts

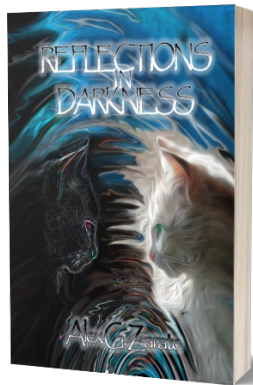

My FB Fave was a question someone asked because they are doubting their abilities. As one who stopped altogether from following his passion (in the past) I replied without hesitation:

Question: I used to love writing... Recently I've been getting a burning desire to write again, but I'm not sure how to get back into writing or if I'm any good. Any advice?

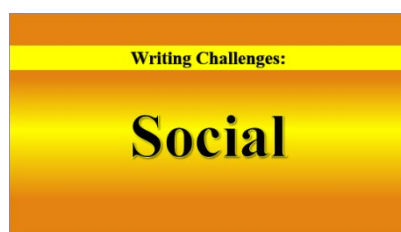

My Reply: The best thing to do is write. Don't ask others for permission to do what you feel you must. Keep the keys to your happiness with you, follow your passion and embark on your journey. Onwards! 😊

Previously: Rewind and recap

Reflections in Darkness is coming along (slowly) I'll be wrapping up the first draft by mid-July and hope to be enlisting Beta Readers at that time as well. I will also be looking for a top notch editor. (Fingers crossed!) I'll be posting some of the book illustrations on Facebook to gauge which ones to put in the chapter headings as well as the final touches on cover design and back matter. (Gotta love that back matter!)

The latest comic vlog went out and I had a few comments about the promotions and social aspect of writing. (Gotta love humor in the face of stress!) 😊

My Insta-fave is a selfie. I often post encouragement for creatives. It is good to have a platform to connect with others on the same journey.

We are dreamers, creating worlds from incredible stories, amazing inventions and stunning beauty as we share our inspirations for a better tomorrow. Onwards! +

IGTV shorts are still going. (Woohoo!) I am grateful to be able to expand my shares with video. Life is good! 😊

For those in the states, I hope you have a wonderful Fourth of July and enjoy great weather and great times with family and friends. Keep adding to your likes and keep creating your worlds. Onwards! 😊

Where be I?

I am still on FB and IG. (and YouTube and IGTV) My new site is coming along so I'll include a link below. Feel free to check it out and let me know what you think. I'm working on it every chance I get. 😊
